

Luna's Quest for the Hidden City

Name: _____

In the bustling town of Meadowville, there lived a curious and adventurous girl named Luna. Luna was known for her love of exploring the forests, meadows, and hills that surrounded her hometown. Her room was filled with maps, old books, and artifacts she'd discovered on her adventures.

One sunny day, while Luna was exploring a dense part of the woods, she stumbled upon an ancient stone tablet. Carved on the tablet were symbols and drawings that seemed to depict a city hidden deep within the forest. At the bottom, there was a riddle: "To find the lost city, follow the path where the sun meets the moon."

With burning curiosity, Luna set off to decode the riddle. She remembered a clearing in the forest where, at sunset, the last rays of the sun shone directly onto a shimmering pond, reflecting the early moon. She decided that this must be the "path" mentioned in the riddle.

As Luna approached the clearing at sunset, she noticed stones on the ground that glowed in the diminishing light. The stones created a pathway, leading deeper into the forest. Luna decided to follow it.

The pathway led her to the foot of a massive waterfall. Behind the cascading water, Luna discovered a hidden cave entrance. Venturing inside, she found herself in a magnificent, forgotten city. The architecture was ancient, with grand palaces and intricate carvings on the walls that told stories of a civilization that once thrived there.

Luna spent days exploring the city, learning its history, and documenting her findings. She found artifacts, old manuscripts, and even a crown, which according to one manuscript, belonged to the queen of the lost city.

When she returned to Meadowville, Luna shared her discovery with the townsfolk. The lost city became a place of learning and exploration for everyone. And Luna, with her undying spirit of adventure, became a local legend.

Questions

1- What is the name of the girl who loves exploring?

2- Where did Luna find the ancient stone tablet?

3- What was carved on the stone tablet?

4- What was the riddle written on the tablet?

5- Where did Luna decide the "path where the sun meets the moon" was located?

6- What did Luna notice in the clearing at sunset?

7- What was hidden behind the waterfall?

8- What kind of architecture did the lost city have?

9- What did Luna find that belonged to the queen of the lost city?

10- How did the people of Meadowville feel about Luna's discovery?

Luna's Quest for the Hidden City

Name: _____

In the bustling town of Meadowville, there lived a curious and adventurous girl named Luna. Luna was known for her love of exploring the forests, meadows, and hills that surrounded her hometown. Her room was filled with maps, old books, and artifacts she'd discovered on her adventures.

One sunny day, while Luna was exploring a dense part of the woods, she stumbled upon an ancient stone tablet. Carved on the tablet were symbols and drawings that seemed to depict a city hidden deep within the forest. At the bottom, there was a riddle: "To find the lost city, follow the path where the sun meets the moon."

With burning curiosity, Luna set off to decode the riddle. She remembered a clearing in the forest where, at sunset, the last rays of the sun shone directly onto a shimmering pond, reflecting the early moon. She decided that this must be the "path" mentioned in the riddle.

As Luna approached the clearing at sunset, she noticed stones on the ground that glowed in the diminishing light. The stones created a pathway, leading deeper into the forest. Luna decided to follow it.

The pathway led her to the foot of a massive waterfall. Behind the cascading water, Luna discovered a hidden cave entrance. Venturing inside, she found herself in a magnificent, forgotten city. The architecture was ancient, with grand palaces and intricate carvings on the walls that told stories of a civilization that once thrived there.

Luna spent days exploring the city, learning its history, and documenting her findings. She found artifacts, old manuscripts, and even a crown, which according to one manuscript, belonged to the queen of the lost city.

When she returned to Meadowville, Luna shared her discovery with the townsfolk. The lost city became a place of learning and exploration for everyone. And Luna, with her undying spirit of adventure, became a local legend.

Questions

Name: _____

1- What is the name of the girl who loves exploring?

2- Where did Luna find the ancient stone tablet?

3- What was carved on the stone tablet?

4- What was the riddle written on the tablet?

5- Where did Luna decide the "path where the sun meets the moon" was located?

6- What did Luna notice in the clearing at sunset?

7- What was hidden behind the waterfall?

8- What kind of architecture did the lost city have?

9- What did Luna find that belonged to the queen of the lost city?

10- How did the people of Meadowville feel about Luna's discovery?
